BUSINESS RESILIENCE AMIDST UNCERTAINTIES

The approach to business continuity planning has undergone remarkable changes in a very short time. A few years ago, organizations were scrambling to prevent firm-wide failure due to what was then perceived to be the single most extraordinary threat facing businesses, Y2K. Now, after the recent events including 9/11, the Boxing Day tsunami and current global recession, management is facing unprecedented challenges to preserve the viability of business and corporate operations in an uncertain environment.

Keynote Speaker

Mr Al Berman
Executive Director,
DRI International, U.S.A

Alan Berman is a CBCP, a member of the Committee of Experts for ANSI-ANAB and a former member of the NY City Partnership for Security and Risk Management to name a few. As a keynote speaker, Mr. Berman has made senior level presentations to numerous corporations and not-for-profit organizations. This list includes the American Red Cross, IBM, RIMS, Institutional Investors Forum, Securities Industry Association and Pharmaceutical Treasures Conference among others. His articles have appeared in Disaster Recovery Journal, Continuity Insights, Contingency Planning & Management, WSTA Ticker, Information Security and Securities Operation Forum and many other international publications.
